Selection Criteria

Demonstrated high level interpersonal, verbal and written communication skills

Talk about your good verbal communication skills such as when on clinical placement within a multidisciplinary context (medical, other nursing allied health staff) – and if you work clinically!

Ability to communicate and care for patients from a variety of backgrounds including those from minority groups (you are patient centered, and an advocate)

Good interpersonal skills to resolve conflict and to negotiate with teams and patients for optimal outcomes.

Excellent written skills evidenced by a nursing degree and also your experience in writing professionally in the medical records of patients

Use of ISBAR when communicating with clinical teams regarding patient's condition

Emphasis how communication skills are critical in the hospital environment to provide safe effective care (give examples – clinical handover, relating medical orders, delegating as a team leader, problem solving)
